ANOTHER MINING DISASTER.

Explosion in a Lancashire Mine—Sixty-Nine Miners Killed.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A terrible explosion occurred this morning in a coal mine near the town of Wigan, in Lancashire. Some fifty persons, who were in a seam of the mine at the time of the catastrophe, were cut off from communication with the outer world, and it is feared have all been suffocated by foul air. A party, sent down to ascertain the condition of the men who had been buried alive, are still in the mine, and have, it is thought, perished. The neighborhood of the disaster is thronged with the relatives and acquaintances of the supposed victims, and the scenes are of the most heart-rending description. The details of the harrowing event are awaited with anxiety.

LATER.—The number of the killed by the explosion at Wigan is thirty-nine. The scenes around the mouth of the mine are heart-rending.

FRANCE.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—The Bien Public insinuates that the intimate relations of Chevalier NIGRA with NAPOLEON render his position here as the representative of Italy untenable. The Français says officers of the Italian Army are traveling over French territory contiguous to Italy and studying its strategic points, in order to be prepared in case of war with France. The League for the Deliverance of Alsace and Lorraine announces that it will continue its labors, but has modified its title to society for the promotion of Alsatian colonization en masse. Prest. and Thiers gave Marshal BAZAINE an audience today, which lasted over an hour. The Marshal has appeared before the Committee of Military Investigation. He made a speech in defense of his conduct of the war, attributing his failure at Metz mainly to lack of ammunition. The Assembly has adopted a bill laying the burden of the losses caused by the war on the whole nation, and providing for the immediate distribution of 100,000,000 francs among the sufferers by the insurrection of the Commune.

VERSAILLES, Sept. 6.—The report that the Duke D'AUMALE has been appointed Governor of Algeria is denied. The rumors of dissensions between the Governments of Italy and France are false. The Government has informed the ultramontane throughout the country that they will not be allowed to petition for the dissolution of the Assembly.

AUSTRIA AND GERMANY.

The Salzburg Meeting—Arrival of the Emperors—Roumanian Sunshine by the German Foreign Minister.

SALZBURG, Sept. 6.—The Emperor of Germany, accompanied by Prince BISMARCK, arrived to-night. He was received by the Emperor of Austria, who was attended by a brilliant suite. The Sovereigns conversed together for a quarter of an hour. A grand banquet was given to-night, at which their Imperial Majesties and the distinguished statesmen of both Empires were present.

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—The Provincial Correspondence is confident that the Imperial conference at Salzburg will strengthen the friendship of Germany and Austria. It is said that the German Government, replying to a Roumanian note, again reminded the Cabinet at Bucharest that Roumania was not a sovereign State, and was not entitled to correspond directly with the European Powers; and it was informed, moreover, that its note had been communicated to the Porte.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Republican Committee's Programme—The Earl of Derby on the Land Question.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Republican Committee of England, has today issued the programme of the party which they claim to represent. It embraces the following principles:

"The application of the principle of federation to the Kingdom; the abolition of titles and privileges; the suppression of monopolies; the abolition of standing armies; compulsory education; the State to provide work for those laborers who are able to work, and sustenance for those who are incapacitated from work; the nationalization of land; popular legislation; and the diffusion of republicanism."

The Earl of DERBY delivered a brilliant speech on the land question yesterday at Liverpool, on the occasion of the opening of the Exhibition of the Manchester and Liverpool Agricultural Society. Fifteen field batteries of Royal Artillery passed in review at Aldershot yesterday, making a splendid appearance.

The Newcastle Strike—Gateshead Newly Introduced also Strike—Remarks of Manfredi, the Garibaldian—Dead Agitator.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The proprietors in Newcastle are sending in every direction to obtain men to fill the places of the strikers. Fresh workmen are arriving in considerable numbers from Cornwall, London, Norway, and other quarters. Some factories have been able to resume operations with their former activity, although nearly 4,000 old hands have left the town. Fifty more of the workmen brought from Germany as substitutes for the striking miners of Newcastle-on-Tyne, have struck, on the plea that they were engaged under false pretenses. A large meeting was held at Glasgow to-night in support of the strikers in Newcastle. Resolutions calling for the reduction of the time of a day's work to nine hours were adopted. The hall was crowded. Good order prevailed.

Four plate-layers were instantly killed by a railway accident near Scarton, on the Preston and Carlisle Railway.

The remains of RENFORTH, the Tyne boatman, reached Gateshead to-night. Thousands followed the coffin in silence to the house of the widow of the deceased. The funeral takes place on Sunday.

ROME, Sept. 6.—The following changes in the Italian Ministry are officially announced today: Signor VISCONTI enters the Cabinet as Minister of Public Works, in place of Signor GADDA, who is appointed Prefect of Rome, and will be intrusted with the details of the transfer of the capital to this city. MEXICAN OUTRAGES.

Seizures and Attacks on American Ships in the Rio Grande.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Several months ago an American vessel was seized by the Mexican authorities on the Rio Grande, on the allegation that her master had attempted to violate the revenue laws. The master was also subjected to much personal annoyance, notwithstanding his protest against such proceedings. With a view to redress, he made a full statement to our own Government, and the difficulty became a subject of international concern and adjustment. Other cases of outrage since that time have occurred, information having been received in this city by telegraph from Galveston, dated today, mentioning that the American bark Harvest Home had been attacked by a force of Mexicans off the bar of Santa Anna, on the night of the 27th of last month, and her master, E. C. DICKEY, obliged to put to sea without completing her cargo. Another dispatch from Galveston today mentions that the American bark Brothers, owned by a firm in Norfolk, Va., and of which J. R. THURSTON was master, was captured from him by an armed force of Mexicans, also on the 27th of August, off Santa Anna, and the Captain forced to abandon her; and that twenty-four hours afterward, he was picked up by the Harvest Home and arrived at Galveston yesterday. It is understood Capt. THURSTON will visit Washington and make a full statement of all the facts in the case to the Government authorities.

THE MISSISSIPPI KUKLUX.

A Manageable Witness in Gentaway—He is Locked Up till November.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 6.—At the past term of the United States District Court a large number of witnesses were summoned, under the Enforcement act, to testify to the existence of Kuklux organizations, among whom was THOMAS SCANLON, of Newton County. SCANLON testified before the Grand Jury that he knew of no political organization, Kuklux or otherwise, that was inimical to the laws of the United States or State. He said, however, that he was a member of a secret organization, having for its object the good of the country; but he refused to reveal its title or practical purposes. The refusal being deemed contempt by the Court and Grand Jury, SCANLON is, by order of Judge HILL, of the Federal Court, committed to jail without benefit of bail till meeting of the Court on the first Monday of November. SCANLON is represented as a merchant in high standing, strictly peaceable and law-abiding, and universally respected in his community. The order for imprisonment caused much feeling.

THE AMERICAN POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 6.—The American Pomological Society met here today, with over 100 delegates from the following States: Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas, Nebraska, California and Territory of Columbia. Mayor REILY welcomed the society in a speech full of cordial good will, and was responded to in the same spirit by Marshall P. WILDER, of Boston, President of the society. As the two orators grasped hands, three hearty cheers were given for Massachusetts and Virginia. The society then reassembled, and heard the annual address of the President, who reviewed in an able manner the lessons which practical experiments in fruit culture had taught the American pomologist. This afternoon the joint exhibition of the society with the Virginia Horticultural and Pomological Society was opened, and the display excels anything heretofore made in America in native fruits. The specimens fill the numerous long tables in the vast hall, and to this fine array all the States above enumerated contribute liberally. The United States Agricultural Department exhibits pears and wine grapes. New-York is well represented in apples and pears; Massachusetts sends several varieties of pear by Mr. WILDER. Virginia shows 195 different sorts of apples from one orchard of Albemarle County, and exhibits the largest pear, weighing within a fraction of two pounds, from Norfolk. This pear is a Duchess D'Angoûlême. Iowa presents 118 varieties of splendid apples, and some fine pears; while Kansas and Nebraska contribute beautiful apples, pears and peaches. Offcourse Pennsylvania and Ohio are not behind in any of the fruits cultivated in those States, and they exhibit excellent specimens.

South Carolina sends forty varieties of grapes, and Southern Illinois sends a general assortment that is hard to beat. The Virginia grapes attract attention and interest. California, however, contributes apples, pears, grapes, quinces, olives, plums, &c., that excite everybody's admiration. The grapes, especially, are miracles in this latitude. The hall is finely decorated with flowers and evergreens, and is crowded with visitors, who are unbounded in their praises. The fair will continue three days.

UNIVERSAL PEACE.

Meetings of the People of Peace in Dutchess County—Characteristic Resolutions Adopted.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Sept. 6.—The Dutchess County branch of the Universal Peace Society held a meeting in Checseman's Grove, near Clinton Corner, today. CHARLES B. DEYO presided. Letters were read from GERRIT SMITH, JULIA WARD HOWE and LUCRETIA MOTT, regretting inability to attend. ALFRED H. LOVE, of Philadelphia, offered a series of resolutions, asserting that war is the working man's enemy; that while religious sects sanction war New-York riots are inevitable, and that war is, with and for Cuba, is not in any way justified. The resolutions also condemn the attack of Commodore ROGERS on the Coreans, and maintain that the Treaty of Washington points to a higher civilization. They favor a peaceful policy toward the Indians, protest against military schools, and favor the abolition of the West Point Academy. They also disapprove of military taxes, and commend JAMES E. WHIPPLE, of Ledyard, Conn., for submitting to imprisonment rather than pay them. In conclusion, the resolutions oppose capital punishment, and urge the removal of all war clauses from the Constitution. All the resolutions were adopted unanimously, and a copy of this part referring to the attack on the Coreans was ordered to be sent to Secretary FISH, and a copy of that part commending WHIPPLE was ordered to be sent to him in the jail at Norwich, Conn., and a copy also to the Governor of Connecticut. Addresses were made by Amanda Deyo, Aaron M. Powell, Mrs. Lillie Devereaux Blake, Gideon Frost, H. H. Wilcox, of Washington, and others.

The race was witnessed by about 4,000 persons, who were fairly carried away with the excitement. The time of the heats was 2:20¾, 2:17, 2:20¾. In the second heat, the watches of the Judges didn't agree, one making it 2:16¾, another 2:16¾, and another 2:17. The last time was adopted, to dispel any doubts which might result from the complication.

THE SARATOGA REGATTA.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

SARATOGA, Sept. 6.—The lake was the centre of attraction this afternoon, and its wooded banks were thronged until a late hour with spectators watching the various crews at exercise. The Biglin crew, with COULTER for stroke, were out twice during the day, and did some good work. Their style of pulling is much admired, and they will not be far from the winner on Saturday afternoon. The water was unusually rough today, and did not give the oarsmen a really fair show. The Renforth crew went for a spin this afternoon, and were pulling a strong thirty-nice to the minute. They came home fresh and lively, although a little wet. A new crew from Poughkeepsie, with WILLIAM STEVENS, arrived this afternoon, and took a spin, pulling about thirty-seven. They are a heavy lot of men, and average about 172 pounds. The McKee crew from Pittsburg, and the WARD brothers were also out. The latter are in very good form. The Taylor-Wissihp four went out about 8½, but the rough water appeared to bother them a little, especially No. 3, who got in trouble once or twice. SADLIER, KELLY, BAGNALL, COULTER, JOHN BIGLIN, ELLIS WARD and GILBERT WARD were all out in single sculls. It is understood there will be a stake put out for each crew, as there would undoubtedly be a foul in case there was only one. The WARD brothers appear to be the favorites in the betting.

COMMODORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Wednesday, Sept. 6, 1871.

Admirers of aquatic sports along the Hudson are deeply interested in the forthcoming regatta at Saratoga, inasmuch as the Hudson River sends two crews to contest for the prizes. I have already given you a full description of the Josh Ward crew of Cornwall. The Poughkeepsie crew are strong, muscular fellows, all of them—old-fashioned sturgeon fishermen—men who have rowed all their lives, sun-burnt, black-and-tan sort of chaps, inured to all sorts of hardships. Their names are as follows: HOMER WOODEN, WILLIAM STEVENS, WILLIAM BURGHER, and CHARLES BURGHER. The former weighs 178 pounds, STEVENS 160, WM. BURGHER 158, and CHAS. 165. WOODEN, STEVENS and WILLIAM BURGHER, aided by EZEKIEL BENEWAY, (since dead,) composed the crew of the old four-oared boat Stranger owned one time in this city, and which boat never was beaten. In July, 1869, they rowed a five-mile race against the Biglin crew, of New-York, and were beaten two lengths and a half, the time of the victors being 27 minutes, 20 seconds. WOODEN, STEVENS and WM. BURGHER have never rowed together in a race since, till now. They have been in training but five days, but during that time they have worked like beavers. STEVENS will pull the bow oar, and WILLIAM BURGHER the stroke, with WOODEN second, and CHARLES BURGHER third. Their boat is the old Flow Fields, in which they rowed with the Biglin boys in 1866. She is 45 feet in length, 24 inches in width, and 8 inches deep. Her weight is 175 pounds, and she is built of Spanish cedar. The boys have paid no attention whatever to diet, but have kept up a terrible rowing. They do not expect a victory, but will pull hard for it. This morning at 6 o'clock they took an eight-mile row, and then went up town to buy some "store clothes" for Saratoga travel. At 11 A. M. they left for the scene of the race, on the Saratoga train, after having lashed their boat to the roof of the baggage-car.

"Pook Deheny" accompanies them to attend to outside matters. Another contest attracting attention hereabouts is the three-mile race in shell boats to-morrow between EDWARD SMITH, of Cornwall, and HENRY B. LE ROY, of New-Hamburg. They are to row at Newark for a gold watch and chain, the champion single-scull rower of the Atalanta Boat Club, to which organization both belong. LE ROY is twenty-two years of age, and a fine oarsman. He is a fisherman. In 1869 he rowed against THOMAS PEARSON, of Yonkers, in a three-mile race at New-Hamburg. PEARSON winning in 23 minutes 57 seconds. Since then LE ROY has picked up wonderfully, and yesterday, according to his father's statement, rowed three miles in 20 minutes 50 seconds. He left New-Hamburg with his boat to-night, for Newark, on board the steamer River Queen. If he wins this race he proposes to again challenge THOMAS PEARSON, EDWARD SMITH, his opponent, is also a good oarsman. Both he and LE ROY have been in active training for weeks, and it is expected that the contest will be a close one, though knowing ones predict LE ROY will have an easy victory. Certainly PEARSON had an easy victory over LE ROY in 1869.

SANDUSKY, Ohio, Sept. 6.—The international regatta at Put-in Bay was opened today, and was a perfect success. Thirteen yachts were entered for today's race; distance, fifteen miles and return. The Jag, of Toronto, took the first prize—time, 2:41:45; the Zoe, of Toledo, the second, and the Coral, of Detroit, the third. The Jag was built at Oswego, and sold to the Toronto Club. Canada is jubilant to-night, but the honor belongs to Yankee builders. The wind was favorable for the larger boats.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

New-York City and the United States Stationery Accounts.

The Government Printing no Greater than That of New-York City and County—The Incomplete New-York Court-House Has Cost Twice the Cost of the Treasury Building.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—It is an instructive and striking fact that while the New-York Ring has spent for stationery for the county alone, during the past two and a half years, not including law books or blank books, the enormous sum of $650,000, or at the rate of $260,000 per year, the entire expense of all the stationery used by the Treasury Department at Washington, with its 2,300 employes, all fastidial workers and no sinecurists, is only $45,000 per year. A rough comparison shows that the entire expense of the Government Printing for Congress, and all the Departments, with its many hundred thousand volumes of reports of all kinds, does not exceed the probable annual expenditure for printing and stationery for the City and County of New-York. The total cost to the present day of the magnificent Treasury building, which is, next to the Capitol, the largest building in the United States, and which is nearly six times the size in superficial area and in capacity of the New-York Court-house, is $6,000,000, against $12,000,000 for the latter building, not yet finished.

THE CABINET.

A Cabinet meeting was called by some of the correspondents for this week, but from present indications it is evident that the President and members of the Cabinet will not obey the call. It is not probable that a meeting will be held before the permanent return of the President, which will not be until the first of October, unless there should arise some pressing public exigency.

PERSONAL.

Superintendent WALKER, of the Census Bureau, who returned from Europe in the Colorado yesterday, will make a short trip to Massachusetts, to visit his family, before returning to Washington. Hon. JOHN H. KETCHAM, Gen. H. A. BARNUM, of the Grand Army of the Republic, Col. KILBURN KNOX, and JOHN ROACH, Esq., of New-York, are among the arrivals in this city today.

THE EASTERN DISASTER.

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—At the inquest today, on the Eastern Railroad accident at Revere, the President of the road, GEORGE M. BROWN, continued his testimony:

The suspension of Mr. NOWLAND was at the suggestion of Mr. IVES, for the reason that it would be proper, while the investigation was going on that he should run his train; I remarked at the time that I did not wish to do anything that would prejudice the case; was informed that BROWN, the engineer of the Pullman train was not running, and there was no other suspension as far as I know; cannot say, but think that we use kerosene oil in all our cars; it has been a matter of consideration with myself and the Superintendent, as to what kind of oil to use; we take great care to have the oil of the best quality, that it will stand the test according to law; we desire to say that we would substitute any other oil in preference, without regard to cost, if it was safer; the President is not subjected to any illegal fees in regards the amount of business that comes along; a case came to my observation today where a man has incurred expenses for a picnic; told him we could not carry them, and shall share the expenses with him that he has incurred or pay them in full; never had the Westinghouse brake brought to the notice of the Board; have found out that the delay of the Beverly train was not occasioned by want of cars; the immediate cause was the non-arrival of the Saugus train; I understand that train was sent to the camp-meeting, and by the breaking down of the middle platform it was detained an hour and a quarter; I am not able to see that the President and directors of the road were in fault, and we have a committee of our Board attending here to see to that point; have not examined the men in charge personally; do not know who are discharging their duties now; we have a Committee now making investigations as regards the cause of the late accident, consisting of Mr. W. E. LATHROP, SAMUEL HOOPER and FRANKLIN HAVEN; they were selected as competent men to make the examination; there should be a double track on the Saugus Branch; but there is an express provision in the law prohibiting us from building a double track.

To Mr. ADAMS—I think I took the returns of 1861 and 1870 of other roads to judge whether our road was as well equipped as other roads; the returns sent into the State are supposed to be correct; our road has a larger Summer travel than any other road out of Boston, and we have endeavored to provide for our general business, including our Summer business; we have a surplus of rolling stock in the Winter, and employ that time to repair the cars and get things ready and in order for the busy season; so far as I can find out, the Beverly train was delayed by the Saugus branch train; I ought to say that the Superintendent was absent, arriving on the principal places; it requires constant and strict attention to run a road without a telegraph; in case we had a telegraph I think this accident would not have probably or possibly occurred; we have a good deal of difficulty in telegraphing by the Western Union line; this subject of telegraph has never been brought to my attention, especially since the introduction of what improved appliances the Master Mechanic, Superintendent or Engineer made. In conclusion witness said he had endeavored to furnish all facilities to have this investigation complete.

CHARLES F. ADAMS, a Railroad Commissioner, was sworn, and testified to the duties of the Board of Commissioners, and gave his opinion in regard to the operation of the Eastern Railroad, which was, in substance, that the road was in a peculiar position; that at certain times of the year it is subjected to an extraordinary pressure, and this accident is the result of one of those occasions; the returns of the Eastern Road, compared with the five other roads running out of Boston, show an increase of 2.83 per cent. of business against 26 per cent. increase of rolling stock of the Eastern Road; during the ten months there were injured 27 persons, 13 of whom were passengers; 12 were fatal and 15 were not fatal, and 13 were from jumping on and off trains.

Capt. J. H. ROBERTS and wife were sworn and testified to the time of the accident, and corroborated the evidence of other witnesses.

Several other witnesses were examined, without eliciting any new facts. The inquest was adjourned to 9 P. M. to-morrow.

OBITUARY.

Ali Kibraeli Pasha.

This distinguished Eastern statesman was born in 1815. As Second Secretary of the Turkish Embassy in Vienna, under the Sultan MAHMOUD, he gained his first experience in diplomacy. At the age of twenty-three, in 1839, he became Chargé d'Affaires in London, was afterward Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs at Constantinople, and in 1841, when but twenty-six years old, he returned to England as Ambassador. After filling the high offices of Minister of Foreign Affairs and Chancellor of the Imperial Divan, he lost favor in 1852, and was sent away from the capital to Smyrna, as Governor-General. In 1856 he was recalled and appointed President of the Council. In July of the next year he received the highest title within the gift of the Sultan, that of Grand Vizier. He went to the Vienna Conference during the same year as the representative of Turkey and in 1856 acted as First Plenipotentiary of the Porte at the Paris Conference. He took an active part in the latter Conference, and gained a reputation as a man of much shrewdness and strength. The Treaty of 1856, which was the subject of so much interest last year, and was altered by the London Conference at the request of Russia, was signed by ALI PASHA, in his official capacity, against his own wishes. Having resigned the office of Grand Vizier, he accepted a reappointment on the death of his successor, in 1858.

SATANTA AND BIG TREE.

How the Condemned Chiefs Act—They are Still in Military Custody—Resentment of the People.

WACO, TEXAS, Sept. 6.—You have already been informed that the sentence of death passed on the Chiefs SATANTA and BIG TREE has been commuted to imprisonment for life. The commandant of the post, Fort Richardson, still has custody of the Indians, and, as the Sheriff of Jack County is suspended till a charge of embezzlement against him is disposed of, the Commandant will not deliver them to the deputy, as that official is unable to show that he is duly qualified. The Indians will never reach the Penitentiary unless sent under military escort. The frontiersmen swear to kill them if taken by a civil guard, and will try to bushwhack them even with the military. BIG TREE wants to be hung. SATANTA has not expressed any wish.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis of Events and Prognostications.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 7—1 A. M.—The barometer has fallen at the California and risen at the Rocky Mountain stations. The high pressure in the north-west has been quickly followed by a low barometer, which is now again rising. The barometer has fallen very generally from New-England to South Carolina, and especially in Florida. The disturbances of the past two days in the eastern Gulf have probably been due to the small cyclone which has today passed north-eastward into South Carolina, rapidly losing its violence and spreading into a general rain. Clear weather has prevailed north-west of the Ohio River, and cloudy weather on the lower lakes, with increasing northerly winds. The temperature has fallen decidedly over the same region, and still more toward Lake Superior, while it has risen in the Middle States.

PROBABILITIES.

Pleasant weather will probably continue on Thursday from the Blue Ridge north and west; clearing weather in Florida and Georgia; clouds and light rains from South Carolina to Virginia, with threatening weather to Massachusetts.

A Versatile Swindler Arrested—He is at Will a Detective, Reporter or Impersonator.

HENRY HASKINS, alias HOWS, was arrested yesterday by Detective DUBENBURY, of the Central Police, on a charge of swindling the President of a bank at Gloversville, Penn. Some time ago the bank was entered by burglars and robbed of a large amount in money and bonds. Soon after the robbery, HASKINS called on the President, and representing that he was a detective officer from New-York Police Head-quarters, presented a letter of introduction from Mr. HENRY SMITH, President of Police, which was a forgery. Having thus established his official standing, he stated that he had arrested two of the burglars in New-York, where they were locked up, and one of them was suffering from a severe wound received at the hands when effecting the capture. By these representations he succeeded in getting $25 from the President then, and the same amount next day. So entirely did he impose upon the people, that the Sheriff went post haste to Harrisburg where he got a requisition from Gov. GRANT for the rendition of the thieves, and it was on arriving in this City with this document that the swindle was discovered. The discomfited Sheriff returned home, where he had HASKINS indicted for the fraud, and by directions of Superintendent KELSO the detective began to search for the swindler, but for some days without success. It was then learned that a visit to the abortionists after the trunk tragedy, and extracting large sums of money from them by the pretense that he was a reporter for a morning paper, and had been detailed to expose them, which he always promised not to do if a suitable consideration should be offered him. He had previously been engaged in operations of a kindred character, and two years ago defrauded a number of merchants, who had suffered from burglars, by representing himself as a detective and offering, for information which would lead to the recovery of their property. At that time he assumed to be Detective KELSO, who is now Superintendent of Police, and being arrested was convicted and sent to the Penitentiary; while there he became notorious in connection with the wild story of the Nathan murderer, which was progressing at the County Jail. This versatile swindler is about thirty years of age, of fine personal appearance and pleasing manners. He is now locked up at Police Head-quarters, where he will be held to await the arrival of a requisition, when he will be taken to Gloversville for trial.

Last evening he made a confession to Capt. IRVING of some of his operations among the abortionists, which shows that he did quite an extensive business by pretending to be a reporter sent to write them up, and then agreeing to say nothing about them for a consideration. He called on Mme. RESTELL, who seems to have suspected his true character as he says she asked him to "call another time," but after words, as he asserts, gave him $25. He was less fortunate with her husband, "Dr." MAURICEAU, No. 120 Liberty-street, who gave him nothing, and defied all the newspapers combined to injure his business. The bogus reporter next describes his visit to Dr. E. D. GRISDALE, who, he says, "crumbled like an apple leaf, and gave me five bills to keep his name out of the papers." "Dr." and Mme. WEST were less alarmed, for they slammed the door in his face at first, but the "doctor" relented and gave him $5. In July, the indefatigable fraud got $10 out of ROSENZWEIG, under a threat of writing him up, and in this manner he also threw Bleecker-street physicians, whom he named, some time ago performed an operation on a woman while she was under the influence of chloroform, from the effects of which operation, he says, she died, but that they hushed the matter up with their money. He accuses two other physicians, who are supposed to be reputable practitioners of having aborticists, and alleges that one of them gave him $10 to avoid exposure. Another of these physicians, he says, has been engaged in selling diplomas of the University of Pennsylvania to any one who desires them. It was the opinion of Capt. IRVING that while HASKINS was probably telling the truth as to his own rascality, his accusations against others were not entitled to much consideration.

A Murder in Fortieth-Street.

Last evening, JOHN RIDER, of No. 953 First-avenue, and VALENTINE KIESLER, of No. 532 West Fortieth-street, both of whom were engaged at work on a new building in Fortieth-street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues, became engaged in a quarrel, when RIDER, seizing a handsaw, struck KIESLER on the head with it, inflicting a wound which is expected to prove fatal. The assailant fled immediately after committing the assault, and was not found for some hours, but being finally captured was locked up in the Twentieth Precinct Station-house. The wounded man was taken to his home, and was still alive at an early hour this morning, but there was very little hope of his recovery.

The Police made a descent upon the gang while the fight was going on, and arrested DENNIS P. CASEY, JAMES GLYNN and JAMES FITZGERALD, all of whom live at No. 454 West Nineteenth-street, and all whom were locked up in the Sixteenth Precinct Station-house.

To make matters worse there has been an enormous rush of visitors to Inverary, including nearly the whole Clan Campbell, and the little town has been utterly unable to provide even the shelter of a roof for a great many of the pilgrims, who had to return in the steam-boats which brought them, or take their chance of a pleasant bivouac in the rain. Everybody, however, seems to have been in the best of spirits and temper—perhaps the abundant supplies of excellent Highland whisky had something to do with that—and in the intervals of the rain, or when it was not irresistibly blinding and drenching, there were Highland games, volunteer reviews, addresses from corporations, and other public dignitaries, and so on.

THE FRENCH MINISTRY IN IRELAND.

While the loyal proceedings have been going on in Scotland, some of the Irish have been trying to give an offensive political turn to the reception of the gentlemen from France who have come over to return thanks for the sympathy and assistance shown to that country during the war. The Frenchmen have had enthusiastic receptions at Cork and elsewhere, with processions, banquets and speeches; and the speeches have all been directed to indicate the possible union between France and Ireland to establish the latter as an independent Republic. Some of the addresses in which the down-trodden condition of Ireland is depicted in highly romantic language must seem rather a cruel satire on the freedom of French Republicans, if the Frenchmen understand what is said. Even though a variety of repressive legislation is in force in Ireland, France has never at any time known what liberty means to the extent to which even disaffected and notoriously dangerous Irishmen now enjoy it. The demonstrators are apparently quite agreed that Ireland ought to be an independent Republic, but there the agreement ends. Some are in favor of a Republic with the Pope at the head of it, while others would much prefer to see the Pope in quite another place—a place familiarized by Orange imprecations—and will be satisfied with nothing less than the Goddess of Reason and unlimited social freedom, without religious or any other troublesome moral restraints. It is the curse of Ireland that its spouting power is so far ahead of its reasoning faculties; not, however, but what there is a considerable degree of shrewd worldly reasoning in those who usually take the lead in these cheap displays of anti-sedition. In Ireland, everybody wants to be a gentleman, and to get a snug place without doing much work. Hence the swarm of briefless barristers on the outlook for a berth under Government. These gentry are the very reverse of revolutionists in their designs. They only want something to be done for them—a dirty three hundred or six hundred pounds, or perhaps at the outside a thousand pounds a year, and then they will be satisfied, unless they see a chance of getting something better. They know by experience—the sort of men who fill the judicial Bench and occupy the best legal places supply a lesson not to be misunderstood—that the quickest and most effectual way of getting a snug place is to let the authorities see that they have a rough ends to their tongue, and are not indisposed to use it against the Government, unless it is made worth their while not to do so. Of course, as soon as one set of these harpies is bribed off, there is another set gaping and yelping for a similar feed; and so the unhappy country is kept in a constant state of excitement and agitation. The administration of Ireland is a gigantic system of paying lawyers and attorneys not to speak ill of the powers that be. Now that we have cleared our conscience in regard to the Church and the land laws, I have a notion that England will not stand much more nonsense, and that the day of a firm and resolute government of Ireland is not far off. There is certainly one class of the population who will have to be shaken into their senses.

THE MINISTRY AND THE COUNTRY.

There has been an election to the House of Commons this week; the first that has taken place since the high-handed proceedings of the Government, and the result is that the Ministerial candidate has been defeated by a large majority. And this has happened in a constituency which for the last twenty-four years has always returned two Liberals, and at an election where they had undoubtedly the best man to run for the vacancy. The Conservative candidate, an utterly unknown young man, who can scarcely speak three sentences articulately, whose only principles are such narrow phrases as "our glorious Constitution," and "Church and State," and who has really nothing to say for himself, if he could say it, except that he will vote steadily against Mr. GLADSTONE. Of course the publicans (Mr. WATNEY, the successful candidate, is a partner in a brewery) have been at work, and no doubt helped to turn the election in revenge for the Licensing bill which the Government introduced this session, but failed to carry, and by which all publicans' licenses were to be put up to auction and knocked down to the highest bidder, and stringent Police supervision imposed on all drinking houses. But apart from the publicans, there is evidently much popular irritation and discontent with the Ministry. As I said in a former letter, my own opinion was, that though Mr. GLADSTONE was unpopular, and even justly unpopular in Parliament, the people out of doors rather believed in him. This election would seem to tell the other way, and I find there is a growing impression that if there were a general election it would play sad havoc with the Ministerial majority. The fact is, the country is not ready to go in for changes in everything at the pace the Radicals desire. Before the last reform of Parliament and the establishment of what is practically household suffrage in the boroughs, projects of change had to be agitated for a long time before the public before they made much way in Parliament. By means of these discussions the public mind was familiarized with the question as issue and prepared for something being done. But the Radicals who, though they have not a majority in the House of Commons, have a hold on the Ministry, which is as good, if not better, are provided with a cut-and-dried programme of important political and administrative changes, which they insist shall be immediately carried into effect. They give their orders, as it were, in the evening, and expect them to be fulfilled by noon next day. In my opinion they are quite right in many of their proposals, and it is also true that these proposals have been under discussion for a long time. But they have been discussed theoretically, not practically, as things which might really be done, and the great body of the people which never makes up its mind on such matters speculatively, but waits till they become imminent practical issues, is bothered and suspicious, and doesn't at all like being hurried into new ways with so much speed. The Englishmen are conservatives at heart—that is to say, they are averse from change for its own sake, and want to be sure before they make any change that it will be worth while to make it. The ballot has been talked about for ever so long, but only the broad general principle was decided. All reasonable people agreed that a voter ought, so far as possible, to be protected against intimidation, but when the details of the matter are examined, the question at once arises whether the evils of secret voting, in the way of personation and other frauds, would not outweigh the good to be done, more especially as intimidation is gradually dying out.

THE NINE-HOURS' MOVEMENT.

I told you some time ago that the delegates of the trades unions in London were getting up a series of strikes, as a display of their power, and for the purpose of advertising the vitality and continuance of their power. For the present their attention is concentrated on what is called the "Nine-hours' Movement," the chief battle-field of which is Newcastle. The engineers of that district (which is one of the head-quarters of our engineering industry) have been on strike for three months, and the struggle between them and the masters has now become very much embittered. On each side it is regarded as a war à outrance. The masters know that if they give way now, not only will the movement at once be carried into other towns, but that other demands would immediately be made. The question is whether the employers shall manage their own factories, or whether they shall hand over the control of them to the officers of the unions. Employers of labor in other trades and in other parts of the country have come to the rescue of the proprietors of engineering factories in Newcastle, and have submitted a fund for importing workmen from abroad. Men have been brought from France, Belgium, Scotland, Cornwall, and elsewhere. The difficulty seems to be not so much to get men as to get them to stop. The fact is, the operatives on strike, pinched by their protracted sufferings and exasperated at the prospect of having suffered for no purpose, are in a very inflammable condition, and evidently in the mood for fighting if they have an opportunity. The new comers are subjected to continual taunts and persecutions, and can hardly show themselves in the streets without being assailed with blows or perhaps a shower of stones. An American who had seen some rough work in Texas and Oregon, (where rough work does occasionally occur,) declares that he never saw such cowardly, brutal violence as in the streets of Newcastle, but of course a man who has just had his head broken is apt to be prejudiced. The Times has an "inspired" paragraph asserting that no disturbances worth mentioning have occurred, but this is intended merely to allay the fears of workmen who may be thinking of starting for the South. I believe there can be no doubt that some very savage assaults have taken place, that the masters have fitted up their workshops like barracks, and keep their men almost constantly within doors and that the Police force of the district is kept on special duty day and night to prevent unionist outrages. The men on strike have dispatched two agents, one of them Mr. EDGARTON, being well known in connection with the "International Association," to Belgium, to prevent engineers there from accepting engagements, and they report that they have been very successful. I believe, however, the masters have as many men as they want at present, and expect the strikers to give way in another week or two.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Much satisfaction is expressed at the appointment of Mr. ADAMS as an arbiter in the Alabama case, though it is known that he is very decided and inveterate in his opposition to England on this question. But personally, Mr. ADAMS is much respected over here.... Mr. HENRY STAFFORD NORTHCOTE, eldest son of Sir STAFFORD NORTHCOTE, has been appointed Secretary to the British Claims Commissioner. The Commissioner (Mr. RUSSELL GURNEY) will sail for America on the 9th of September.... Mr. THOMAS HUGHES, M. P., has completely recovered from the severe illness by which he was attacked rather more than a fortnight ago..... A very painful effect has been produced by the news of the sudden death of RENFORTH, the rowing champion of Newcastle, in Canada. There is an unpleasant suspicion of foul play, for which in the accounts I have read there is no justification, except that RENFORTH himself seems to have had some notion of it.... There is a rumor that the explosion of gunpowder at Stowemarket was caused by some malicious person pouring sulphuric acid on the cotton in order to damage the credit of the Company. It was the cotton which was to be tested for the Government which was saturated in this manner.... The Government has arranged for an important series of observations of the approaching eclipse, along a line extending from the Neilgherry Hills, in India, to Cape York, in Australia. The observation in India will be intrusted to Mr. POGSON, Col. TENNANT and Capt. HERSCHEL; Mr. LOCKYER has been requested to observe in Ceylon. The observing-stations in Java will be occupied by the Dutch Government, and possibly also by M. JANSSEN, while a strong expedition has been formed from Sydney and Melbourne. The necessary instruments will be sent out to Australia by the next mail, and those for India will follow shortly. As before, the Government not only help in money, but in transport, camping and the like, and have also agreed to undertake photographic observations of the approaching transit of Venus.

TRYING THE COMMUNE.

The Proceedings in the Court-Martial—The Speech for the Prosecution.

Writing on Aug. 23, the correspondent of the London Daily News at Versailles reports Commander GAVEAU's speech for the prosecution. "Having on the previous day," he says, "disposed of the general charges against all the prisoners, and insisted upon the responsibility of all for the acts of each, he now gave his opinion upon the special individuality of each prisoner seriatim. This he did, in most cases, very briefly. FERRÉ he described as the most ferocious of the whole band, and the assassinious instrument for carrying into execution the ideas of the Commune. It was FERRÉ who had shot the gendarme VILLAIN-TRYBOUTE; it was FERRÉ who had ordered the burning of the Prefecture and the Finance Ministry; and it was FERRÉ who had personally directed the execution of the hostages. It was, moreover, FERRÉ who, on the unimpeachable testimony of the merchant LESSIER, had stood by while wretches acting on his immediate word of command had shot two sergents de ville on the steps of the Mairie of the eleventh arrondissement. Against Asst. M. GAVEAU insisted upon all the proclamations and documents well known to have been signed by him, and also upon one recently discovered, on which he founded a special charge of subordination, (seducing the army from its allegiance,) which alone insisted upon death. It was an aggravating circumstance against Asst that he had ordered the manufacture of shells containing strychnine and other poisonous substances. URBAIN's case was removed from the realm of pity by the motion he had made in the Commune for the speedy execution of the hostages, which also SHELDRAY took credit to himself for having saved many people; but he had taken an active part in most of the acts of the Commune, he had signed the decree on the hostages; and M. GAVEAU called for the utmost severity of the law against him. The Commissary spoke ironically of JOURDE's confidence to the Tribunal in regard to his devotion to the State, and observed that his financial system, which was wanting to clear up the very mysterious accounts of his finance administration, would not have taken more room in his waistcoat-pocket than the bank-notes which were found upon him. TRIDON was closely connected, have permitted a murder with his own hand. CHARDON was a shallow young man, whose head was turned by vanity. He was deeply implicated as an accomplice in murder and arson. REGNIER was a most dangerous man, and deserving of no mercy. LULLIER had considerable talent for organization, and if a gendarme was one of his most dangerous kind. DE RAMPONT, a fanatical criminal enthusiast. PASCHAL GROUSSET, who belonged to a respectable family, and had received an excellent education, was all the more culpable on that account. As to FERAT, the Police reports did not at all confirm the praise he awarded to himself for courage as a Major of National Guards. Before the Commune he was in a state of penury, and belonging to it, his pockets were well filled, and his way of living luxurious. On coming to Dijon, Asst. M. GAVEAU laid down as a matter of law that the gallant and fearful doctrine that the Police was the best authority as to any man's character—and more especially in regard to an accused party. DESCHAMPS was in the black books of the Police, both as regards politics and morals. He had behaved very harshly to the women in his arrondissement. CLEMENT was an honest and industrious workman, who, to his own injury, and unfortunately to that of others, had imbibed the political ideas of PROUDHON, which he was not able to digest. The beasts of the members of the Court might very properly be touched with pity for the prisoner; but his duty as prosecutor was to insist that he was responsible for the acts of the wretches of the eleventh arrondissement. Against Asst. M. GAVEAU insisted upon all the proclamations and documents well known to have been signed by him, and also upon one recently discovered, on which he founded a special charge of subordination, (seducing the army from its allegiance,) which alone insisted upon death. It was an aggravating circumstance against Asst that he had ordered the manufacture of shells containing strychnine and other poisonous substances. URBAIN's case was removed from the realm of pity by the motion he had made in the Commune for the speedy execution of the hostages, which

The chain was filed off, and the master is to be investigated.

The New-Orleans Times draws what it calls a repulsive but truthful picture of the political situation in Louisiana, and says: "Men of New-Orleans! we have been slumbering too long. These pliers, whom a breath has made, a breath can dismiss, and nothing has between us and them but a hideous cloud of vapor, even now kneeling with the weight of its own fetters. Let us do what we can to drive away the dim and dusty mist which hides the road of prosperity upon which we have been laboring so long to enter, and cheer on to iniquitous death and destruction the spectators that has fettered our hands and covered our good name with obloquy. The chains to rip, shank Gold! and vengeance Bonds! upon their heels. Ho Nation, the masses are being devoured by their own dough! Shall he! Away, there!"

Judge ABELL, of a New-Orleans District Court, apologized for his lazy appearance the other day by saying that he had been on the stretch, trying to dispose of his salary warrants to the best advantage. He also said that he had not been paid a single cash dollar during the present administration; that by certain proceedings, a favored few could have the warrants cashed; that nearly all State warrants found their way into the hands of money brokers, and that by the advice of friends he would shortly reduce his complaints to writing, and lay them before the Grand Jury.

Among the victims of the Mobile steamboat disaster was little STEVE SNOW, of whom the Mobile Register thus speaks: "He was for a long time employed as the message carrier for the Associated Press dispatches, and, being comparatively destitute, his funeral expenses were defrayed by the Press and Telegraph office of this place and the New-York Associated Press. Mr. STEDMAN, the General Agent at New-York, having sent a dispatch instructing Mr. SANFORD to draw upon him for $20 for that purpose. Poor little STEVE was therefore doubly interred. He was a bright, quick boy, and we miss his sightly familiar cries of 'More Yeh!' and 'Good Night.' We trust that his last 'good night' has merged in a bright, happy day."

A California editor has been startled by the sudden appearance of a monster; he is at a loss to know whether to call it fowl or beast, notwithstanding it had wings and could fly. As Wimbercuss it burst upon his astonished vision, and thus he describes it: "It was certainly the biggest creature ever seen in this country with feathers. If a bird, it belongs to a giant species unknown to American ornithology. Our attention was first attracted by hearing some cackling one. 'Holy mother, see that new with wings.' We stepped to the door just in time to see the monster alight with something of a crash on the roof of Mrs. COLLIER'S dwelling-house, where it remained for several minutes taking a quiet survey of the land and the astonished multitude who stood gazing at their unexpected visitor. It could not have weighed less than 75 or 100 pounds, with a pair of ponderous wings, which, when stretched out to the breeze, must have been fully twelve feet from tip to tip. Its color was that of a raven, with the exception that the tips of its wings and tail were white. An old sailor, who happened to put night at the sight, thinks he must be a renegade member of the condor family."

A young German, recently arrived in this country, said to an acquaintance in Fulton, finding that America was too smart for him—he wanted to live out of it. Then he went on a tow-boat on the Mississippi, lying at the levee, clasped his hands for a few minutes in prayer, and leaped into the river. The water was only two and a half feet deep, and he was obliged to crawl under the boat in order to drown himself.

We cannot under any circumstances return rejected communications, nor can we undertake to preserve manuscripts.

☞ We beg to state that we shall shortly publish, in a cheap pamphlet form, in English and German, the proofs we have submitted during the past few weeks of the City frauds. The warrants copied from the Controller's books, checked and revised by the official accounts sent in to the Board of Supervisors by Mayor Hall, together with the particulars of the "armories swindle," and the numerous other frauds committed under the "Rule of Four," will be arranged in a perspicuous and handy form. A totally new introduction to these reports will be written, and explanations given which will bring the history down to the present time. The pamphlet will have a very large circulation all over the Union—over 150,000 copies are already ordered. We can print only two pages of short advertisements in this pamphlet, and it will be necessary to send in notice early if any applications for the space. We are also ready to receive orders for the pamphlet.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EUROPE.

An explosion occurred yesterday morning in a coal mine near Wigan, in Lancashire, by which sixty-nine miners perished. The English Republican Committee has issued a "programme" setting forth its principles. The proprietors in Newcastle are securing the county for substitutes for the striking workmen. Four thousand of them have left the city. Fifty Germans, brought to fill the places of miners at Newcastle-on-Tyne, have also struck, alleging that they were brought there under misrepresentations. The body of RAMSDEN has reached England. Four plate-layers were instantly killed, yesterday, by a railroad accident near Scorton. Eighteen thousand emigrants left the Mersey for the United States in August.

The Austrian and German Emperors met yesterday at Salzburg. FRANCIS JOSEPH extending hospitalities to WILLIAM. A banquet was given in the evening, at which the sovereigns and the attending statesmen were present. Strengthened friendship is predicted by the Berlin official paper as the result of this meeting. The Roumanian Government was recently reminded of its tributary condition by the German Foreign Minister, who referred a note from it to the Sublime Porte.

GENERAL.

The Anti-Dram-Shop Convention met, yesterday, in Syracuse, N. Y., passed resolutions denouncing all parties, and nominated a State ticket.

Five deaths from yellow fever occurred in Charleston, S. C., in the twenty-four hours ending yesterday afternoon, but it is said "hardly any" new cases have appeared.

We are indebted to Purser SCHWENKEN, of the Hamburg steam-ship Westphalia, for valued additions to our European files.

Several shop-keepers in Poughkeepsie were yesterday victimized by receiving counterfeit ten notes on the Manhattan National Bank of this City.

The Democratic State Convention is called to meet at Rochester on the 4th of October.

The Work of Reform.

Men who are incurably corrupt are very apt to believe that dishonesty is invincible, and we need not, therefore, be surprised to find all the political knaves of both parties very sanguine at this moment that the present demand for political reform will be barren of results. But the best minds of the community are at present engaged in study-ing the means by which an honest and efficient government may once more be secured, and although it may take time to develop a perfect plan, it need not take long to make good the first step—that is, to get rid of the men who are now in power. We ought to be able to elect a Legislature this Fall, on which we can trust, and then one of the first things to be done is to secure the repeal of the New Charter. Many were deceived by that measure upon its first introduction, and by the solemn pledges which accompanied it—pledges which have all been violated—but no one can be in any doubt as to its real effect now. It simply deprives the people of all power, and places the City and its revenues and its credit absolutely at the mercy of four men. Such power has never before been deliberately consigned to a little knot of men, who have neither character, ability, nor principle to recommend them. Had they shown a reasonable degree of moderation in the use of their immense privileges, they might, perhaps, have succeeded in duping the public a little longer. But their covetousness has known no bounds, and after more than doubling the City debt in a few months, and making away with sums of money as yet unknown, they stand convicted before the world of offenses which ought to secure them the benefits of a long season of retirement in jail. Many a clerk, for a breach of faith infinitely less grave, has been sentenced to years of imprisonment.

Our citizens have been so little accustomed to act unitedly during the last few years, that it is not surprising to find many of them "shy" of entering into the present undertaking. One party is afraid that the other party is going to make some advantage out of the emergency. All such considerations are unworthy of sensible men who find a great scandal cast upon Republican institutions, and who see their very property melting away under their eyes. This is no time for partisan fears, schemes, or jealousies. There will inevitably be some suspicion and distrust on one side or the other, but there ought to be as little of these disturbing elements as possible. We ought, for the credit of our country, and for our own protection, to re-establish our local government on a sound basis. Almost everybody, not actually in the pay of the FOUR, acknowledges the urgency of this duty. To contend that the duty ought not to be attempted, lest one party or the other should gain a momentary advantage, is to carry party zeal to the verge of madness. The gentlemen who have undertaken to act as a Committee on behalf of the citizens at large, fairly represent the great parties of the day, and will have something better to engage their attention than pitiful designs to overreach each other. They must expect to have cold water plentifully thrown upon them by the advocates of the Ring, and by the do-nothing class of lookers-on. We have gone through that experience during the last twelve months, and we have found that cold water does no great harm, if only you resolve to take no heed of it. The Committee will succeed in accomplishing great good if it sticks to its business, regardless of the hostile criticisms of enemies or the lukewarm "support" of friends.

The application to be made before Judge BARNARD this morning will certainly test some important questions. The case was not brought forward yesterday, on account of Judge BARNARD'S illness; but we may hope that there will be no further postponement. Now is the time for men to make reputations. All who assist in effacing the terrible disgrace which HALL and his colleagues have brought upon the community will be gratefully remembered. If one man will not assist, another will. No friendly arm can save the Tweed faction now. They will try to survive a little longer, as drowning men catch at straws; but their hours are numbered. It will not be difficult to find honest and capable men ready to succeed them, and to give us once more a properly ordered City, an upright rule, straightforward accounts, and taxation based upon fair expenditure, not upon a gigantic system of plunder.

A Momentous Decision of the Court of Appeals.

The Court of Appeals has just rendered a decision that will very materially affect certain office-holders in this City. It has decided that the Legislature has no power to extend the term of office of any official elected by the people beyond the time for which he was elected. The question came before the Court on the relation of N. HILL HOWLES, who, in 1868, was elected Justice of the Eighth Judicial District of this City, and who was refused possession of the office by the then incumbent, W. H. BALL, who was elected in 1860 for six years, but whose term of office had been extended three years longer by act of the Legislature. The Court of Appeals now decides that the Legislature has no power to extend the term of an elective office; that if it could extend the term three years, it could extend it ten years, or for life, and thus defeat the provision of the Constitution which guarantees to the people the right of electing their Judges and other officials.

This trick of extending the terms of office-holders, by act of the Legislature, has been resorted to quite frequently of late years, and if it is unconstitutional, as is now declared, the corrective influence of the law cannot be too quickly applied. The effect of the decision in this City is highly important. It will be recollected that the last Legislature extended the term of the Aldermen and Assistant Aldermen, which would have expired in May of next year, to the 1st of January, 1873. It also extended the term of the Corporation Counsel till January, 1873, after which it authorized the Mayor to appoint that official. The term of the Surrogate was also extended, by the Legislature of 1870, from three to six years. All these officials would now appear to be holding their positions on an illegal tenure, and will be obliged to vacate their offices or to submit their claims to re-election to the people. With the exception of Judge HUTCHINGS, the Surrogate, who has administered his office to the general satisfaction of the public, their chances of re-election will be very slim.

How Hilton Ceased to be a Judge.

It must not be supposed that the discourtesies visited by Mr. HENRY HILTON, upon gentlemen sent to him on business matters by the TIMES, are altogether the outgrowth of his recent absorption by the Tammany Ring. A somewhat excessive appreciation of his personal importance has been so sedulously nursed by him for many years, that his awful superiority has naturally lost him a good many friends, not to speak of political supporters. Even so long ago as 1863, Mr. HILTON had a lesson taught him, on this head, which he should never have forgotten; for his pretensions at that time were directly instrumental in leaving him plain Mr. HILTON, high and dry upon the political beach. The circumstances were of a sort likely to be recalled with a certain degree of interest, by our German friends just now.

In the November election of 1863, the two rival candidates for the position of Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, were ALBERT CARDOZO and HENRY HILTON, the latter of whom sought re-election. At that period neither of these candidates had developed the proclivities which have since led both of them into the service of the Ring. So that there could be no suspicion of any such element in the opposition which signally defeated Mr. HILTON. And it is quite clear that we owe to our German friends the quietus which was administered to that gentleman, the last time he ran for an office. The secret of this German opposition is plainly revealed in the following campaign circular, which was served upon a large proportion of our German population, and which we translate, for the first time, for public use. The circular reads thus:

THE GERMAN LAWYERS OF NEW-YORK TO THEIR FELLOW-CITIZENS.

The frequent relation in which Judge and advocate stand one to the other gives to the latter the best opportunity to judge the official fitness of our Justices.

Resting on this, and not looking upon political party position, the undersigned, German attorneys, practicing at the civil Courts of New-York, take the liberty to speak against the re-election of Mr. HENRY HILTON, the present Judge of the Common Pleas.

Though recommended by regular party organizations for re-election, in the interest of our fellow-citizens his success could only be regretted.

The highly pretentious and aristocratic bearing of this Judge toward the Germans exposes them to a contemptuous and intolerable treatment.

Be it with or without intention, Mr. HILTON destroys by a prejudice of nativism, of which he makes show, the equality before the law, guaranteed by the Constitution to all citizens. Every German will confirm this who, either as a party or as a witness, has come into contact with Judge Hilton.

We ask, therefore, our German fellow-citizens, respectfully, to vote with us against the re-election of Judge Hilton.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 28, 1863.

This circular, and a supply of ballots, on which Mr. HILTON'S name did not appear, were inclosed in an envelope bearing this indorsement: "German Electors: We hereby beg you to vote against Mr. HENRY HILTON, the Know-nothing candidate for Judge of Common Pleas. Inclosed you will find Democratic and Republican tickets on which Mr. ALBERT CARDOZO is put in place of Mr. HILTON. You will, therefore, according to your political inclinations, put one of these tickets into the ballot-box, and thereby secure, in your own interest, the election of Mr. CARDOZO. More tickets may be had at Atlantic Garden; LINDENMULLER'S, Odeon; Harmony Garden; Columbia Garden; MAX LEVINGER, Third-avenue; Stadt Theatre; KARL, Avenue A." This was signed by the following very respectable Committee of German lawyers: F. S. STALLKNECHT, President; FRIEDRICH KAPP, JOHN J. FRIEDMANN, SIGISMUND KAUFMANN.

This circular defeated Mr. HILTON very effectually eight years ago. Since that time his temper does not appear to have improved. By the time he graduates from the service of the Ring, what a sweet nature he will possess, judging from his present progress!

An Important Cargo.

The Pacific Mail Steam-ship Company's steamer Alaska arrived lately at San Francisco on Monday with a remarkable cargo. It was reported by the steamer which preceded her that the Alaska's whole space, not of her hold, but her cabins and upper deck-room, was chartered for a cargo of tea. She brought, or was expected to bring, in fact, not less than thirty-five hundred tons of tea from China and Japan. Now, thirty-five hundred tons make a net weight of about two millions of pounds of tea. It is not possible to tell the precise weight, because we do not yet know how much of this enormous cargo was green and how much black and Japan tea; and green tea is from twenty-five to thirty-three per cent. heavier than the other qualities. But we may pretty safely reckon that the Alaska brought over nearly if not quite two millions of pounds of tea, and as the consumption of tea in the United States amounts to about forty-two millions of pounds per annum, it appears that this one steamer has brought into the port of San Francisco one-twentieth, nearly, of our whole annual consumption of this Chinese leaf.

This great and valuable cargo, which a few years ago would have come to us by way of the Cape of Good Hope, and reached us only after a tedious and dangerous sea-voyage, comes now in a few weeks from Hong Kong to San Francisco, and in a few days from that port to New-York. At least a considerable part of it is to be sent to this port. Forty-five thousand two hundred and eight packages of tea and 200 packages of silk are to come over the Pacific Railroads from San Francisco. The cost in China and Japan of such a cargo as the Alaska has brought in, was probably not less than eight hundred thousand dollars; it may have reached a million, in gold. Its value in this country, including freight, insurance, duties, and exchange, is probably a million and a half, in currency. But the Alaska has also brought raw silk; and if she carried as much of this as her predecessor in the same line, this would add another half million to the value of her cargo. It is probable that her cargo is the most valuable that has ever been brought by a Pacific mail steamer; and it is a curious evidence of the change which the completion of the trans-continental railroad line has wrought in the commerce of the world, that we should thus receive, in a single vessel, one-twentieth of our whole annual consumption of tea. How long will it be before Western Europe will find it more profitable to buy tea and silk from China and Japan by way of San Francisco and New-York, than by way of either Cape Horn or the Cape of Good Hope?

Pity the Poor Foot-Passenger.

A lady correspondent writes to us to say that she was crossing one of the less frequented thoroughfares of the City, yesterday, she was suddenly startled by the clatter of a horse and a cart, out of which went up a shout, or rather a "barbaric yawp." Turning her head, she saw a butcher's cart swooping round the corner at full speed, and almost upon her. Being young and nimble, she sprang forward, and in a moment was safe upon the sidewalk; but if she had been old, or lame, or had missed her footing, the yawper and his chariot would have gone right over her. As it was, the wheels brushed her fluttering dress. Being self-possessed as well as quick upon her feet, the moment she touched the curb-stone she wheeled directly round and launched an indignant look at John. She might as well have peppered an iron-clad with peas. The man who had come so near killing her replied to her look with a coarse laugh, and crying, "Well, I hollered, didn't I?" dashed on in his career.

Few of our readers can fail to recall some such experience as this, and some of them must remember many. In the great thoroughfares, and at the principal crossings, with some exceptions, the comfort and safety of pedestrians receive compulsory attention from the tyrants of the street. As a general rule, these are not the omnibus-drivers, the much-abused hackmen, or private coachmen. These men are mostly careful, at least to a certain point, in this respect, and sometimes are really attentive and considerate. But the drivers of express-wagons, of butcher-carts, of the great two-horse vans that fill the street, and generally of the vehicles of traffic, rarely seem to think or care into what peril of life and limb they put foot-passengers. Safe in their seats, and confident in the strength of their vehicles and their horses, they push straight on, undisturbed by any apprehension, except that of a smash with a rival stronger than themselves. A yell, as they wheel around a corner, or as they rush swiftly down an incline, perhaps paved with wood to facilitate their progress and deaden its warning sound, is all the intimation they think it necessary to give that those who wish unbroken bones should take themselves quickly out of the way. Again and again have we all of us heard that outcry, and found it for ourselves, or some other person, the only protection against bruises or fractures. And even when the drivers of our western Juggernauts, before whom, with almost Indian resignation, we prostrate ourselves, do not do their best to drive over us, they regard our comfort and convenience as nothing worth. Each one of them seems to think it incumbent upon him to keep his horse's head close upon the tail piece of the vehicle next before him, regardless of the crowds that may be waiting to cross the street. And with this there is no interference. It seems to be forgotten that the first use of a street or road is for the convenience of foot-passengers. This is the fact in the order of time, and it is the right in the order of reason. The foot-passengers are the multitude, that "greatest number," the greatest happiness of which is the avowed end and aim of all rational governments.

Now, how long is this condition of things to last? Just so long as men allow their absorption in business, or their fussy sensitiveness, or their easy-going good nature, to deter them from following up one of these street tyrants when he shows his brutality, and subjecting him to Police discipline. Without a complaint, the Police cannot act upon cases that they do not themselves witness. Complain, then, and have the next man you see guilty of this outrage arrested. "Oh, but that will be very unpleasant. It's very disagreeable to have a crowd gather round you in the street, and to walk off to a Police station with a rabble of street boys at your heels. Takes time, too." Very well; if this is your answer, you must submit until some day one of these fellows dashes out what brains you have upon the pavement. For that unwillingness of yours to submit to a little unpleasantness and loss of time is just what emboldens him. You care about that; well, he don't care a button. He would just as soon go to a Police Station as not; all he would care about would be the punishment, and perhaps the loss of employment to which you might subject him. This grievance is one that at least has not diminished of late years, and it is one that every man owes it to his family and the community to assist in abating. It is not necessary that the legitimate course of traffic should be at all impeded in order that headstrong men should not drive headstrong horses and heavy vehicles over ordinarily careful foot-passengers.

The Bed of the Tiber.

The proposed researches in the bed of the Tiber suggest some interesting comment and reminiscence. We are reminded among other things that ADDISON wrote on the subject more than a century and a half ago. His Remarks on Several Parts of Italy in 1701, &c., refer to the circumstance that the Jews had formerly proposed to the Holy See to cleanse the bed of the stream, taking for their pains whatever they might find. The Pope refused the offer on the ground that the heats would probably advance too far before the work was finished, and that thus a pestilence might be engendered. ADDISON observes that he had inspected the Valley, near Ponte Molle into which the Jews proposed to divert the Tiber until the old channel was ready again for its reception. Another plan was submitted to the Roman authorities in 1685, by a gentleman who has just made public the fact. He proposed to bring two English divers to Rome, and with their aid to strive to bring up valuable relics. This is the plan depended on to recover the lost treasure of the Nuestra Senora de Atocha, an account of the expedition to which long-sunk galleon we published some time ago. The Minister of the Board of Works at Rome listened to the scheme and gave audience three times to the projector; but, although the latter offered to give up one-half of what he secured, on condition that he was allowed to keep and export the other half, his offer was declined.

This gentleman now says, that several distinguished Romans, including the Marquis of CAMPANA, advocated his scheme, as did also the late eminent sculptor, Mr. GIBSON; and that Lord OVERSTONE, who was then at Rome, sent a friend to offer a large sum of money toward the undertaking; all, however, was in vain as against the opposition of the authorities, and the matter was abandoned. The gentleman now announces, while disclaiming any wish to participate in or interfere with the project on foot under the auspices of the Italian Government, that he has given years of deep study to everything connected with the Tiber; and that, after comparing fragments of statues which have been fished up in various parts of the river, and "after lamenting over the various works of art which have been thrown into it from the Castle of St. Angelo," history has led him to infer that, "not only statues, but gold and silver such as was cast out of the window of the Chigi Palace into the Tiber, and likewise the famous Jewish seven golden-branched candlestick which TITUS took at the siege of Jerusalem and deposited in the Temple of Peace, may be [illegible] embedded in the sand near the Temple of Vesta." The same authority is of opinion that while the discoveries can be far more effectually prosecuted by turning the course of the river, than by his own original and more economical mode by divers, that the latter will still be necessary to bring out from the port of Civita Vecchia the magnificent bronze statue of which the arm alone is deposited in the Vatican.

Whether all of the rosy anticipations expressed by this and other projectors, are destined to be realized is doubtful. Gold is a perilously tempting commodity, and we may well suspect that ornaments and sacred vessels of this metal, when said to be thrown into river or sea out of deference to national or religious prejudice, often found their way to the melting-pot. Statues and bronzes, however, would not thus be disposed of, and it is in these that we may reasonably hope the exhumations from the bed of the Tiber will be most rich and satisfactory. The search is certainly a highly interesting one, and its products will be looked for with eager curiosity by the whole civilized world.

National Guard Rifle Practice.

Before the war it was the practice in most of the States of the Union to require the uniformed militia to parade at least once a year, "armed and equipped as the law directs." As very few of the persons thus summoned had ever seen the law alluded to, and were moreover innocent of anything which could properly be styled arms, equipment, or uniform, their ranks made a most grotesque appearance.

The armament of these squads was anything, from a lath sword or a bannister rail to a fowling piece, or a "Queen's arm," and their uniform was as piebald as that of one of those companies of Fantastics often seen parading our streets on Thanksgiving or some other of the cool weather holidays. The events of the war, however, showed that the militia had an important and, at times, perilous service to perform, however useless they may have been previously considered. Less attention, therefore, was given to the ununiformed militia, and no pains spared to make the uniformed or National Guard as efficient as possible. Serviceable uniforms took the place of the gaudy full dress previously worn, and Springfield rifled muskets were substituted for the altered flint-locks. The drill and discipline of the troops advanced as their dress and armament assimilated to those of the regular army, until many of our crack regiments, in their soldier-like appearance and military proficiency, left little to be desired. While all these improvements were being made, the manual of arms seldom included any more practical shooting than the snapping of caps, or at best the firing of blank cartridges. The use of the sights on his piece, and the amount and effect of its recoil when fired with a ball cartridge, were things unknown to many a man who had drilled faithfully in the ranks for over seven years. The rank and file were capital soldiers in every respect save the one vital one—ability to shoot well. From time to time attention has been directed, through these columns, to the importance of a well-ordered and compulsory system of target practice for the National Guard. Not mere targets excursions, where shooting for prizes is only an incident in the day, and the dinner, music, and dancing the real events, but an engrafting of target practice upon the regular course of company instruction.

The recent meeting of National Guard officers, with a view to the formation of a permanent rifle practice association, is a step in the right direction, and the presence on that occasion of Major G. M. SMITH, of the Seventh Regiment, a well-known advocate of increased attention to marksmanship, CAPT. WINGATE, and others, is a proof that the persons having the matter in hand know what is needed, and how to treat the case. The defeated contestants in competitive contests are more apt to believe that the judge who decided against them was prejudiced than that they were deficient in acquirements, but no such unpleasant disputes are likely to arise about rifle matches. Each bullet tells for itself if it hits the target, so that a brief record of shots readily decides which man or company has made the best shooting. The fact that National Guardsmen are proficient with the rifle will make them more efficient for every service, and will therefore greatly enhance their value as defenders and protectors of lives and property. We wish well to the project of forming a rifle practice association for members of the National Guard, and shall hope ere long to be able to announce its successful accomplishment.

MINOR TOPICS.

On Sept. 2, we brought the history of the great armories swindle down to the end of April, the date on which warrants for a quarter's rent of the occupied and unoccupied rooms paid for on account of our National Guard, were issued. We then stated, that we had been informed, on good authority, and that we believed it to be the fact, that in two separate instances leases had been executed with the knowledge and consent of the Mayor and Controller, and a year's rent paid for the premises before they were actually occupied. The rents in question amounted to $22,500. We offered the Mayor and Controller the use of our columns to contradict these charges if they were erroneous. They have, as yet, failed to do so, and the corrections of our allegations may therefore be safely taken for granted. We are now informed that the upper part of certain buildings in course of erection in West Twenty-third-street, have already been leased as an armory, and that the rent has been running since May 1. Are the Mayor and Controller prepared to allow this statement to go uncontradicted in face of the fact that $28,500 a year is already being paid for empty rooms rented for the county records as armories and drill-rooms? It is to be hoped that officers of such unquestioned integrity as Gens. SANFORD and ANDREWS will be found ready to assist the people in putting an end to the enormous frauds of which the accommodation of the National Guard has been made the occasion.

The public will recollect that when PETER B. SWEENY succeeded Mr. DAVLIN as Chamberlain of the City, four or five years ago, he inaugurated the practice of paying over to the City Treasury the interest accruing quarterly on the money of the City deposited in bank, which interest prior to SWEENY'S accession to office had gone to replenish the private purse of the Chamberlain. This interest amounted to between fifty and a hundred thousand dollars annually, and great credit was claimed and awarded to SWEENY for his generosity in giving to the City that which honestly belonged to it, but which, it was claimed, might legally have been pocketed by him. Since Senator BRADLEY has been Chamberlain, he has promised to follow the noble example of his predecessor and brother-in-law. How it might, and it might not, surprise the public to learn that this ostentatious display of honesty and generosity was all a sham, and that not a cent of this interest money ever found its way into the City Treasury. Of course it is impossible to tell, so long as the Controller's books are concealed from the public, whether the City ever received the money or not, but we have good reasons for stating that no record of the fact is to be found in the Controller's accounts. It may be that the record is there, but the Controller has given no intimation of it in any of the so-called "reports" he has made to the public, and if the money was ever paid and credited to the City, it would be for the interest of Mr. SWEENY to demonstrate the fact.

Judge BEDFORD'S charge to the Grand Jury in regard to the abortionists is timely and to the point. "The only individuals of this infamous class who have been sent to State Prison in the last thirty years, were sentenced last Spring by Judge BEDFORD—the notorious Dr. WOLF for seven years, and "Lookup" EVANS for three and a half years. If the Grand Jury and the District-Attorney do their duty in the cases of ROSENZWEIG and the rest there can be little doubt that the Judge will do his. Let the law be amended in accordance with his suggestion, so that abortion shall be declared to be murder in the first degree, punishable with death, and we shall soon put an end to this business.

The kind of meeting which the World advertises is that which took place in Tammany Hall on the occasion of the last great turn-out. The rowdies of the City were all collected together, and Mr. ANDREW BELMONT was in the chair. But who was the chief speaker? The public will recollect that it was JAMES FISK, Jr., a "man of weight," according to the scales of the World, and a very proper person to act as chief supporter to Mr. BELMONT. FISK did not speak at the Cooper Institute on Monday evening—it was his absence which made the World shake its addled head so dolefully, and mourn over the decay of oratory. TWEED, FISK and CONNOLLY—these are the speakers it loves to hear. And indeed they have spoken to it to some purpose, since it is owing to their "services" (of dollars), if not their wright, that the World now praises the very acts which a little while ago it denounced as the acts of "swindlers."

There is a wholesome feeling manifesting itself among Republicans everywhere, regarding the necessity of making an uncompromising fight with corruption at the next election. The resolutions adopted by the Republican Committee of Kings County, on Tuesday evening, are to the point. They urge the State Convention to place the party in an attitude of clear and uncompromising hostility to all extravagance and corruption in public affairs, and especially to the Tammany Ring. To the furtherance of this end the Committee also resolved that "no one who holds office under Democratic City or State authority should be sent to the State Convention, or nominated by that Convention, or put in nomination for the Legislature, or for any City or County office, or made a member of the State Central Committee, whose influence upon the Legislature at Albany may be and ought to be, so powerful." This resolution was opposed with more obstinacy than judgment by a gentleman declaring himself to be the defender of Water Commissioner HYDE, but the vote on its final adoption was nearly unanimous. Action of this kind should be promptly taken by every representative body in the Republican party of the State.

What has become of the corps of Bohemians who were employed by Mayor HALL to write "correspondence" to the Western and Southern Press filled with extravagant quotes of the wonderful attractions and virtues of PETER "Brains" SWEENY, "Boss" TWEED and "Dick" CONNOLLY and the accomplished and versatile OAKEY HALL? Have the scribblers stopped writing, or have the papers stopped publishing? We no longer encounter the long lamentings and death-provoking epistles on ill-treatment, and naturally begin to feel some solicitude for the writers as well as for the subjects of their graphic encomiums. The impression of the Ring happens to be under a cloud at home just now, but that is no reason why they should cease trumpeting their fame to the outside world. The shortcomings have lately come in great too, but the Herald can afford to advertise them all the same. The Ring need not despair, for has not HALL survived them that are durable will soon "blow over?" Let the Bohemians resume their correspondence-mine, and cease not to proclaim the virtues of their employers until they, with the aforesaid, are consigned to the State Prison and are no longer able to pay for the advertisements.

The Democratic State Committee met yesterday at Albany, and decided to hold their State Convention on the 4th of October, a week after the Republican Convention. The Democracy are evidently determined to place themselves in a position where they can take advantage of the wisdom, or lack of wisdom, of their opponents; and it is certain they will need all the [illegible] and comfort, to be then derived at the coming election. We are a little surprised at their fixing upon Rochester as the place of holding the Convention. The people of that city entertain a lively remembrance of the hordes of Tammany thieves and roughs who frustrated their quiet efforts at the last Convention, and they will pray to be delivered from another such visitation. It may be that Rochester was selected again this year, in order to punish TAMMANY at the channel where she cut last year, and force her to pass once more a back seat. But it will not do to count on repentance or climate on the part of TAMMANY, and we advise delegates to the Convention to leave their watches and pocket-books at home.

Some interesting and important statements are made by the Charleston Courier, of the 2d inst., regarding the prevalence of yellow fever in that city. It says that the fever has been far from the "character of local causes, and epidemical in its character;" that "for the week ending the 26th of August, there were in the population of Charleston, but seven deaths from fever of all kinds;" that for the same week the total mortality was twenty-seven, against thirty-four for the week ending August 19, and forty-seven for the week ending Aug. 27 last year, a decrease of seven in one case, and twenty in the other; and that the "citizens have inaugurated measures to take the health of the City in their own hands, which have already been productive of benefit." While the scale of affairs described by the Courier does not remove the necessity of a rigid quarantine for Charleston vessels, it certainly shows the alarm felt by some portions of the public in regard to a pestilence in that city to be entirely unnecessary.

MESSRS. HENRY and SCHWIND, Superintendent and Deputy Superintendent of the House of Refuge at New-Orleans, have just been indicted by the Grand Jury of that City for a series of brutal assaults upon boys between the ages of six and twenty years. The tortures which have been so deliberately conceived by the prison officers at Sing Sing cannot be compared with the more refined, and consequently more effective efforts of Messrs. HENRY and SCHWIND. The testimony taken during the investigation shows that the little prisoners, very many of them in a wretched state of health, were kept in close confinement, and frequently treated to the whip, the lash, thumb-screws, "smelling-salts" and bread and water. The services of the reformed boys were needed in the tin-shop, and this was deemed a good and sufficient reason for preventing them from going into the world to make their own way. The following is an extract from the report of the Grand Jury, which has been submitted to the Judge of the District:

"After a careful and impartial inquiry into the facts of the case, your Jury is convinced that the aforesaid cruelties and acts of HENRY, the Superintendent, and SCHWIND, the Deputy, deserve to be stigmatized as brutal and unwarrantable outrages."

To say that such men are fit [illegible] position of any kind, were to [illegible] and give the lie direct to civilization.

But that those inhuman [illegible] with others equally as vile [illegible] morality, have nowhere to be safe [illegible] to political reasons, every Jury might unanimously recommend the immediate dismissal of these functionaries from the positions they so grossly outrage."

Warrants were immediately issued for the arrest of HENRY and his Deputy, and they are now under bail to answer. The only person connected with the Reform who appeared to have had a spark of kindness for the poor boys, was a Mr. HARRISON, the master tinner. The little fellows spoke of him in a most affectionate manner, and were unanimous in declaring that but for his interposition they would have died from the effects of brutality and starvation.

ANTI DRAM SHOP CONVENTION.

No Affiliation With Existing Parties—Resolutions—A State Ticket Nominated.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The Anti-Dram-shop Convention met this morning, and despite its paucity of numbers, was a very enthusiastic body. There did not appear to be any design of delay or of retreat. They seemed to fully appreciate the great work in which they were engaged, and were willing to go through any trouble to accomplish it. Thomas M. Jasper, Mr. Rentzell, of Albany, called the Convention to order, and moved that Mr. C. C. Leigh, of New-York, be temporary Chairman. This suggestion being unanimously adopted, that gentleman took the chair and proceeded to deliver an address, in which he spoke very bitterly of both political parties, and confessed his belief that the organization must not start from both and fight its own battles. He said that political power in this country was based upon the Rum-shops in which the organization of the parties was perfected. He believed that the destruction of our institutions would be the direct result of the present dram-shop power, more than our legislators were corrupt, our Judges venal was because they were drunk. Many good, personable constituents were dumpened of a noble vote, who would never suffer them to appoint. He referred to the terrible condition of the City of New-York, with its sixty millions of stolen debt, and claimed that only through the system of this organization could a better state of affairs be arrived at.

The counties were then called in alphabetical order, and members responded from but twenty-three, showing an entire attendance of forty-five counties, many of whom stated that they represented nobody, but appeared on their own hook. In the midst of the call the venerable Gerrit Smith, the chief of the organization, entered the hall. Immediately however, was suspended such shouts, as loud as could be raised by so feeble a body, broke upon the air, and with much enthusiasm the venerable gentleman was escorted to a seat on the platform. The call was then quietly proceeded with, and at its close Hon. C. C. Leigh, of New-York, was chosen President; T. D. Stow, Ira Brownell and S. H. Hastie, Vice-Presidents, and G. H. Thurston, Secretary. A Committee on Resolutions, of which Hon. Gerrit Smith was Chairman, was then appointed, and after some debate the same Committee were authorized to make out a State ticket to be supported at the Fall elections. Having proceeded so far, this brave body, who, like the three tailors of Tooley-street, proposed to guide the public opinion of a great country, adjourned for dinner.

On reassembling at 2 P. M., and before the Committee on Resolutions were ready to report, a discussion at the last moment of advancing the interests of the Association was indulged in. The Convention grew quite warm, and in the midst of fervent denunciation of dram-shops and the present political parties, cries of "Amen" arose up here and there, while the shouts of the semi-meeting grew. The Committee being ready to report, the resolutions were read in short and the Convention proceeded to act upon the resolutions. These were of the strongest dram only growing practical in one that proposes the establishment of a temperance paper. They hoped that God would help them, and that every dram-shop was closed. They recognize the necessity of alcohol for medical and mechanical purposes, but as a beverage in any way, they do not; that the dram-shops are evil, and that Government has no right to legalize the sale of liquor, it being an illegal and infamous business; they oppose the traffic of local governments to the extent of preventing that the two political parties have no duty so important as this, to suppress this traffic. They therefore leave them alone and act for themselves. In view of the above it was resolved that the temperance people are determined to be one of the present parties, and upon this it was proposed to establish a new paper; that at every election there be nominated State and local officers; that they do not intend to stop with the dram-shop, but will uphold the principles of civil liberty, the Union of States, and the inviolability of the national debt. The nominations, as reported by the Committee, were then adopted: Secretary of State, C. C. Leigh, of New-York; Controller, Gardiner Howland, of Rensselaer; Treasurer, Simeon Brownell, of Washington; Attorney-General, E. Crumbey, of Dutchess; Canal Commissioner, John R. Edwards, of Oswego; State Engineer, C. J. Mills, of Fulton County; State Prison Inspector, W. Marks, of Oneida. Adjourned sine die.

Important Decision—The Legislature Have no Power to Extend the Terms of an Elective Officer.

COURT OF APPEALS—Before all the Judges.—The People ex rel. E. Hill Fowler, vs. W. H. Bull.—It will be remembered that the Legislature of 1869 created the Eighth Judicial District Court in this City, and that the district was elected Justice thereof for six years from Jan. 1, 1870, and that in 1869 the Legislature extended his term for three years longer. The relator claiming this extension to be unconstitutional was a candidate for the Justiceship at the election held in the Fall of 1869, and received all the votes cast for the office. The office hereof refused him, he brought suit to obtain the office with its emoluments, and upon the trial before Judge PECKHAM and a jury a verdict was rendered in favor of the relator. On this verdict the General Term ordered judgment for the defendant; and the relator appealed to the Court of Appeals, where it was argued last June. On the argument counsel for the relator contended that, as the Constitution had provided for an elective Judiciary, and the defendant having been elected for a specified term, to wit, six years, the Legislature could not defraud the citizens by extending the term for any period; that if it had the power to extend for three years, it could with the same propriety extend for twenty years or for life, and entirely do away with the election of Judges. Counsel for the defendant contended that this case could not be distinguished from the case of the People vs. Hatch, who was a Clerk of the First District Court, and whose term being extended was decided to be legal. The Court has now decided that the Legislature have no constitutional power to extend the term of any elective officer, and reversed the judgment of the General Term of the Supreme Court.

Before all the Judges.—In the matter of the application of Thomas Murphy for an injunction, &c.—Motion granted. Opinion by Judge ALLEN.

THE CITIZENS AROUSED.

Meeting of Ex-Town Property-Owners—The Harlem Court-House Job and Other Frauds to be Investigated.

A large meeting of the Tax-payers and Citizens' Association of the Twelfth Ward was held at Lenox Hall, in One Hundred and Three-ty-first-street, between Third and Fourth avenues, last evening. Mr. Wm. H. Colwell presided, assisted by Lockwood Wood as Secretary. The organization is non-partisan, and one of its main objects is to devise measures of preventing further fraud and extravagance in the City Government, as to public improvements or otherwise. The Association is at present in a highly flourishing condition, and among the permanent members are Ex-Mayor Daniel F. Tiemann, Sheppard Knapp, Levi Adams, Addison Smith, I. H. Bates, Samuel Carlisle, Lawson, Fuller, James W. Colwell, Wm. Dunning, and others.

Mr. E. H. Dodge, on behalf of the Executive Committee, reported [illegible] several new names for admission to membership, and also announced that the appointment of permanent Secretary and [illegible] of the Association would be made at the next meeting.

Mr. Brown remarked that one of the features of King corruption which deserved the especial condemnation of the honest residents of Harlem was the system of awarding contracts for [illegible]. He said that [illegible] when it should [illegible] to be opened a number of sham bids were made at low figures, with a view of securing the work into the hands of the Ring contractors. One of the objects of the Association was to see that such contracts were given to the lowest responsible bidder of the highest, and that the contractor was a responsible person. The Association intended having a surveyor to examine the work [illegible], and his reports would be laid before the Committee of Supervisors. If the work in any instance was found to be badly performed or contrary to the terms of the contract, the Association would appeal to Court when the contracts were made, and would thus see how the matter stood. The speaker concluded [illegible] that the bonds of [illegible] were in collusion with the public officers. The speaker announced that the Association would [illegible] to see that the bonds of [illegible] were made out in a satisfactory manner. He believed that the public, as the New-York Times had [illegible] would regard it as a much needed step. It was one publication of this work, and [illegible] gives the Times its great moral power. In connection Mr. Brown mentioned that he had heard from one of the Committee of Seventy by acquainting the Committee's accounts. The Committee of Seventy [illegible] Controller's report and Aldermen would, at their next meeting, empower the Committee to send for persons as well as papers if it was so desired. He believed, however, that these would be necessary for data, as every person whose presence was needed would come.

Alderman Fullerton said he doubted whether the Committee, by any Supervisor or Alderman had power to compel the attendance of witnesses. Such power belonged only to legislative bodies.

The resolution was then adopted.

Mr. Stocum said during their private conference the Committee of Seventy thought it would be desirable to have laid before them the published accounts of the City and County for the last two years; a statement of the City and County debt at the end of the years 1868, 1869, 1870, and at the present time, as nearly as it could be ascertained. When these accounts are laid before them the Committee will be able to determine what course to pursue in regard to their thorough examination. He had further to say that the Committee had filled two vacancies in their body by the selection of Messrs. J. A. Roosevelt, of Maiden-lane, and William H. Osborne, late President of the Illinois Central Railroad, therein the Committee of citizens in manner to [illegible].

Alderman Jerome said the assurance had better be embodied in a resolution, which he was prepared to offer.

Alderman Fullerton moved that a recess be taken until 8 P. M., in order to afford the citizens present an opportunity to consider fully the line of investigation they would pursue. Afterward the resolution could be offered and adopted.

A recess was then taken, and a private consultation held. On the reassembling of the Committee, Alderman Jerome offered the following:

Resolved, That all books, documents, receipts and all papers in the offices of the Controller and Auditor of Accounts of the City and County of New-York, and in the offices of the Commissioners of Public Works, Parks, Docks, Taxes and Assessments, and Arrears, and in the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, be freely laid before the Committee of citizens selected to act with this Joint Committee in the examination of the City and county accounts, and that all of those during such examination shall be furnished by said Committee of citizens as it in its judgment it may require.

Mr. Booth said he would like to know, and had indeed been requested by the citizens to ask, whether the Committee had power to call for any papers in private hands. There appeared to be some doubt on this point.

Alderman Woltman said he could not say positively whether persons could be summoned before the Committee, but he felt sure that all persons notified to come would attend willingly. There would be no difficulty about that. No doubt, further, no doubt whatever that the Supervisors

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

Although the attendance at the Exchange yesterday, Sept. 6, was larger than that of any day thus far this week, in anticipation of the sections announced to take place, contrary to expectation no business in real estate was transacted, the proposed sales being disposed of as follows: Sale of house and lot on the west side of Fourth-avenue, 23 feet 1 inches north of Eighty-fifth-street, by order of the Supreme Court in foreclosure, under the direction of D. P. INGRAHAM, Jr., Esq., referee, adjourned by JOSEPH McGUIRE, auctioneer, until Wednesday next, Sept. 13. Sale of leasehold property, embracing seven houses and lots on the south side of Fourth-street, 90 feet west of Avenue C, by order of same Court, JULIUS J. LYONS, Esq., referee, adjourned by same auctioneer until Oct. 26. Sale of four-story brown-stone English basement house and lot on the south side of Thirty-eighth-street, 60 feet west of Seventh-avenue, by WM. KENDELL, auctioneer, under an order of the Court of Common Pleas. Three lots on Boston-road, by same auctioneer, adjourned without day, the sale involving the title to the realty having been settled.

Aside from real estate, however, quite an important stock sale was conducted by MOELIS, WILKINS & CO., at which the following securities were sold at fair percentage prices noted: 313 shares New-York Fire-brick Company, par value $100 each, 200 shares sold at 17½; 100 shares at 18; 50 shares sold at 17¾; 33 shares Importers' and Traders' Insurance Company, par $20 each, 20½; 12 shares Metropolitan Gas-light Company, par $100 each, 90; 5 shares Metropolitan Gas-light Company scrip, 127 per cent; 15 shares Metropolitan Gas-light Company, par $100 each, 105; and $16,000 Soldiers' Substitute Bounty Redemption Bonds of the County of New-York, six per cent, interest, May and November, issued May 1, 1871, sold at 99½ per cent. No further business was transacted at the Exchange. In real estate matters generally the market was quiet, nothing of special interest occurring during the day worthy report.

In reference to the sale of Hasbrouck, N. J., on Tuesday, Sept. 5, conducted by JOHNSON & MILLER as auctioneers, under an ejectment in the Jersey Land Improvement Company, but little can be said, except that the successful results hoped for and expected by the projectors of the enterprise were not fully realized. The attendance at the sale was large, as on preceding days, yesterday, but the bids received were somewhat below those of the estimated value of the property, and consequently but few of the plots offered were disposed of. Some seventy plots in all, each containing about three city lots, were knocked down at figures ranging from $100 to $300 apiece, of which amount, however, some fourteen only were really sold as an actual matter of fact. It is probable that another auction of the lots will be held later in the season, at soon as some contemplated improvements are perfected, when a greater success it is expected will be achieved. Meanwhile plots will be offered at private sale through the office of the Company, No. 111 Broadway, N. Y.

Today at the Exchange, ALLEN & BECHE, HENRIQUES auctioneer, will offer at public auction a three-story high-stoop brown-stone house and lot, known as No. 311 West Forty-eighth-street, north side, between Eighth and Ninth-avenues. Lot is size, 19.4 by 100. At a legal sale, Foreman vs. McGuire, Referee, today, at the Exchange, disposal of a house and lot, 20 by 26 by 53—situate on the north side of Rondout-street, Greenwich-street.

First Mortgage, Convertible,
7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds
OF THE
PEORIA & ROCK ISLAND RAILWAY
OF ILLINOIS.
First Mortgage Bonds ---- $1,500,000
Capital Stock ---------- 2,000,000
This is a COMPLETED road 91 miles in length, connecting the important Cities of Peoria on the Illinois River, and Rock Island, Moline and Davenport, on the Mississippi. Davenport, on the opposite bank of the river, is connected by a railway bridge. The last rail of this road was laid July 7, 1871, and the line is now open and being operated with a success exceeding all anticipation. In order to place upon the road the large equipment necessary for the business offered, and to construct depots, car and engine-houses, machine-shops, &c., equal to any of the best old roads in the country, as is now required of this, the Company offer, through the undersigned, $1,500,000 convertible first mortgage gold bonds, which cover the entire property of the Company, and is less than $17,000 per mile. PRESENT PRICE, 90, AND ACCRUED INTEREST IN CURRENCY. Principal and interest payable in coin at New-York or London, free of tax.
This road, opened for the business local as well as through traffic, now offered, will prove one of the most profitable in the West, traversing as it does a section of country unsurpassed in fertility of soil and agricultural resources, already thickly populated and in a high state of cultivation. This is self-evident from the fact that every section of the road passes through cultivated fields and many flourishing towns and villages, within large city and navigable river at each end. Railroads in the West have been heretofore constructed, through unsettled and uncultivated regions of the country, consequently have had but little local traffic to depend upon for several years after construction. But the Peoria and Rock Island Railway is a first-class COMPLETED road, with NO PARALLEL or COMPETING LINE, and runs THROUGH ONE OF THE RICHEST AGRICULTURAL, MANUFACTURING AND MOST POPULOUS DISTRICTS IN THE WEST. Thus it is certain that the local business is already more than enough to sustain the road, while the through traffic is unlimited, as its connections are numerous, which can be seen by a glance at the map.
This road is a grand central link, to which many of the principal lines centralize and diverge to all parts of the continent.
We invite the attention of investors to this loan. Being familiar with the wealth and resources of the country along the line of this railway and A MEMBER OF OUR FIRM HAVING MADE A CAREFUL EXAMINATION OF THE ROAD AND ITS PROPERTY, WE CAN WITH THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE RECOMMEND THE BONDS AS A PRIME SECURITY, reliable and safe in every particular.
All marketable securities received in exchange at full rates, and bonds delivered to all parts of the country, free of express charges.
Maps, circulars, &c., with full particulars relating to the road, furnished on application by the undersigned. Financial Agents of the Company.

MISSOURI, IOWA, & NEBRASKA RAILWAY
FIRST MORTGAGE GOLD BONDS
INTEREST 7 PER CENT.
Payable in New-York City December and June.
WHOLE ISSUE.....$6,000,000
This road runs from Alexandria, Mo., where it connects (via Keokuk) with the shortest routes to the East, and, passing through the earliest settled, wealthiest, and most populous tier of counties in the State of Iowa, connects at Nebraska City with the Midland Pacific Railroad to Fort Kearney, on the Union Pacific Railroad, forming a direct line from San Francisco to New-York. ABOUT 100 MILES SHORTER THAN ANY EXISTING ROUTE OF CONNECTED LINES. Along the route connections are made with the North Missouri, Missouri and Mississippi, and St. Louis and Omaha Railroads. The road will be in operation from Alexandria to Memphis, Mo., a distance of 40 miles, within a few weeks, and will be fully completed and equipped to a connection with the North Missouri Railroad (80 miles) by Dec. 1, which will insure a large and paying traffic.
The whole length of road, including branches, will be 320 miles. The SUBSCRIPTIONS ALREADY OBTAINED ALONG THE LINE AMOUNT TO $635,000 ON THE FIRST 100 MILES, and the Company is assured that the counties west will subscribe sufficient for grade, bridge, and tie the remainder of the road. The official statistics of the counties tributary to this line show a population of 222,000, and the soil is unsurpassed in fertility. This cannot fail to afford the road a large and profitable local business, while the advantageous connections East and West, making it an important section of the transcontinental line, must insure to it also a large through business.
We are authorized for the present to offer these bonds at the low price of 90 and accrued interest, and we confidently recommend them to investors as a safe and desirable security.

WE OFFER FOR SALE
The First Mortgage
Seven Per Cent. Gold Bonds
OF THE
MINNEAPOLIS & DULUTH RAILROAD CO.,
AT 87 1-2 AND INTEREST.
This line (thirteen miles in length) was completed last month from the thriving manufacturing towns of Minneapolis and St. Anthony to White Bear Station, on the Lake Superior Railroad, which latter Company has leased the line, guaranteed the bonds and agreed to provide a sinking fund that will retire them at or before maturity.
This road will be a long-desired outlet for the immense produce of the flouring mills of Minneapolis, via Duluth and the great Lakes; and will in return accommodate a large volume of Western-bound freight.
The average product of flour of the mills at St. Anthony and Minneapolis during the past three years has been 260,000 barrels, of which four-fifths has been sent by rail to Milwaukee and Chicago, a distance of 400 miles, over roads charging the distance by rail from Minneapolis to Duluth is 157 miles, and the water carriage from this point to New-York is substantially the same as from Milwaukee or Chicago.
The completion of the new Canal has already considered the making of flour more profitable than before at Minneapolis, and has so stimulated the trade that it is confidently believed the millers at that point will increase their work to their capacity, now estimated at 1,000,000 barrels a year.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

Statement of the Operations of the Past Week—The Public Markets to be Cleansed Daily.

The regular weekly meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday, President Bowers in the chair. It was ordered, upon report of the Attorney, that suits be commenced in fourteen cases of violations of the Tenement-house law, twenty-five cases of non-compliance with the orders of the Board, and three cases of violations of the Sanitary code. Several orders formerly entered for the commencement of suits were annulled.

1,250 communications relating to nuisances were received by the Health Department, by the active system of Health Inspection. The usual systematic examination of every possible source of filth and uncleanness is pursued, so in May and June, and cleansing and disinfection enforced as the law may provide. The Sanitary Committee is confident that this Board and the people will work attending, for aside from the attraction of the opening ceremonies, the exhibition itself will be so nearly complete as to be both entertaining and instructive.

a very large variety of sewing machines, some of them run by electricity. The art gallery is filling up rapidly, and will form a very interesting portion of the exhibition. While there will be some very fine paintings on the walls, the managers do not attempt to compete in this line with the regular art exhibitions with which the public are familiar. The other branches of the fine arts will not only be well represented, but visitors will also be made familiar with some of the processes by which pictures are made. A very complete restaurant has been fitted up in the south corner of the building by Mr. Seaman, accommodations for 150 persons to dine at once have been provided for, and all the surroundings are the reverse of plenty and cleanliness. All the tables and kitchen furniture for the restaurant are new, and were made to order for the occasion. The whole will be managed by Mr. Seaman, but under the supervision of the managers of the Fair, who will see that the fare offered is first-class and the charges reasonable. Experience has shown them that the restaurant is a very important auxiliary to the Fair, for most of the exhibitors and their employees and many visitors are forced to take their meals there. Shortcomings in this department cause more grumbling than arises from any other source. The opening, to-day will be

LAW FOR THE ABORTIONISTS.

Opening of the September Term of the Court of General Sessions—Names of the Grand Jury—Judge Bedford's Charge—Recent Medical Murders.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock the September term of the Court of General Sessions was opened by Judge Bedford. The following gentlemen were sworn on the Grand Jury:

Abraham Lent, Foreman, No. 783 Broadway; William Allen, No. 55 Chambers-street; John W. Condit, No. 123 Chambers-street; John K. Coonerthwait, No. 155 Chatham-street; Charles A. Cook, No. 50 Wall-street; John N. Cornell, No. 168 Washington Market; Edward L. Donnelly, No. 805 West Twenty-third-street; Michael Feely, No. 139 Bleecker-street; Charles E. Harthorn, No. 119 Walker-street; William Habirshalt, No. 6 West Eighth-street; Isaac Hoffman, No. 39 White-street; Henry Hart, No. 61 Chatham-street; Patrick K. Kilduff, No. 773 Sixth-avenue; Arthur Leary, No. 18 Williams-street; W. Lyon, No. 112 Avenue C; James Lynch, No. 11 Chambers-street; Thomas Leary, No. 58 South Fifth-avenue; A. F. Pruyn, No. 238 Broadway; Schuyler Skaats, No. 54 Broad-street; Joseph F. Stone, No. 50 Wall-street; Jacob Vanderpool, No. 807 Fifth-avenue.

Mr. Foreman and Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:

In charging you it does not be my duty to mention the fact, that of late crime in this City has been greatly on the increase, and offenders seem, as it were, to grow more bold and daring in their operations. The daily Press teem with fearful accounts of the dastardly use of the knife and pistol, and the terrible consequences ensuing therefrom. The September term of this Court commences today, and with it we assume its labors, its duties and responsibilities. The Calendar will be a heavy one. The District-Attorney will place before you many cases of interest and importance. I feel confident that you will, one and all, cheerfully discharge the several duties which so devolve upon you, and in doing so it must necessarily follow that you will exercise a care that no injustice be done the accused, yet, at the same time, steadily bearing in mind that at all hazards, be the consequences what they may, justice must be done the State. The people, in this threatening hour, look to the authorities to stem the dark current of crime, which has of late set in, and which is now jeopardizing the safety of our citizens. Let them not look in vain. The lawless, under an impartial, honest and fearless administration of the law, must succumb. It is always a mere question of time which of the two shall ultimately triumph—the law or the lawless. Gentlemen, fully investigate and analyze each and every case in strict concordance with your path—without fear, favor, or hope of reward. The District Attorney and his able assistants will do all in their power to aid you; and, when indictments shall be found, the prisoners will be arraigned and disposed of by speedy trials, and upon every legitimate conviction, the people of this City may rest assured that the Court will promptly do its duty, its whole duty, and nothing but its duty, by meeting out punishment full and equal to the offense, and that, too, irrespective either of threats or consequences, for, in my opinion, in this way alone can the strong arm of the law prove at once an aegis for the people and a terror to the evil-doer. But a day or two ago the law-abiding citizens of this City were appalled by the intelligence of a murder most cruel in its nature and most foul in its character, making the heart grow sick at the contemplation of such fiendish depravity. This case, with all its melancholy surroundings, will be presented to you for your deliberation. It will require a thorough and searching analysis, as it is a matter which must be investigated and probed to its very core; for the deed itself strikes, as it were, at the very heart-strings of society. I have reference, gentlemen, to that mysterious trunk, which, but a few days ago, was discovered in this City, containing the lifeless body of a young and once happy, but, I fear, most unfortunate girl, the victim of treachery and deception—one who, unfortunately for her own happiness, believed too much. Full of anguish for the past, and in the vain endeavor to screen from the public gaze her delicate condition, in a moment of utter hopelessness and frantic despair, she gave herself up, and was robbed of her existence by the murderous hand of the abortionist. And here, gentlemen, are we not irresistibly prompted, in the true spirit of philanthropy, to ask ourselves, can crime so fearful and atrocious be perpetrated in the very midst of a Christian community, embracing within its jurisdiction more than a million of souls, and where the religion of heaven is preached and its holy mandates observed?! Ah! the startling, painful fact is too true. If this great City of New-York, constituting, as it were, a world within itself, can boast with conscious pride of her churches, her numerous charities, the virtue and intelligence of her citizens, her multiplied evidences of good deeds, she has, too, to drop a tear over the vices and failings of many of her children. But I will not detain you. Suffice it to say that of late we have been living, as it were, in an atmosphere of abortion. In one word, the very air is, indeed, heavy with the dark deeds of these heartless and unscrupulous specimens of human depravity. Let the warning word this day go forth, and mourn be scattered broad-cast throughout the land, that from this hour the authorities, one and all, shall put forth every effort and shall strain every nerve until these professional abortionists, these traffickers in human life, shall be exterminated and driven from existence, and the majesty of the law be fully vindicated in all cases of this fiendish character. And now, gentlemen, in conclusion, let me express the earnest hope (shared in, as I feel confident it will be, by you and all other right-minded citizens) that the Legislature, at its next session, will so amend the Statute Book so that any person who shall administer to any woman with child, or prescribe for any such woman, or advise or procure her to take any medicine, drug, substance or thing whatever, or shall use or employ any instrument or other means whatever, with intent thereby to procure the miscarriage of any such woman, unless the same shall have been necessary to preserve her life, shall, in case the death of such child, or of such woman, be thereby produced, be deemed guilty of manslaughter in the second degree," (commonly known as the crime of abortion,) shall be declared to be murder in the first degree, and punishable as such with death, instead of, as now, but manslaughter in the second degree, punishable by imprisonment not exceeding seven years.

At the conclusion of this address there was loud applause in Court.

The Grand Jury then retired to their room to consider the indictments in the various cases, but after a short deliberation adjourned until this morning.

The Trunk Murder—Conklin's Guilt Evident.

It would now seem that very little doubt was left as to the identity of the person who was so intimately associated with poor Alice Bowlsby previous to her death. By many of the friends of young Conklin, it was stated that the cause of his suicide was the receipt of certain news from Russia, which would be brought out in the translation of the letters he had in his possession. Up to the present time they have failed, for the letter has never been made public. Further investigation, principally of a private character, has brought to light several important circumstances connected with various visits to New-York made by Conklin. By these it is shown that on the Sunday previous to Alice Bowlsby's departure from Newark, Conklin called at her aunt's house, and after a long conversation, left for New-York on business, which Alice said was of a very important nature. The next day (Monday) she received a letter from him, which probably contained money, and instructions in reference to Dr. Boardewig. Other evidences of a less positive nature have been brought to light, all having the same general bearing.

A Revelation of Baby Farming—How Children are Adopted.

A handsome German girl named Minnie Lauthmann, who lives in Newark, applied to Inspector Dilks, at Police Head-quarters, for assistance in the discovery of an infant child, of which she was the mother, and of which, as she stated, Felix Branagan, a conductor on a freight-train, was the father. She said that the child had been taken from her by the father, and she was afraid it had been foully dealt with. From the investigation made by Sergt. McElwain, of the Twenty-ninth Precinct, by order of Inspector Dilks, it appeared that a brother of Branagan, accompanied by a Mrs. Harbaer, of Newark, had taken the infant to Dr. W. Willett, of No. 36 West Forty-fourth-street, to be adopted out, and had paid his demand of $20 for the board of the child during the time that must elapse before a proper home could be found for it. The mother had the money, been paid and those who left it got out of sight, than Dr. Willett hurried the child off to the Foundling Hospital, where it was found in the receiving-crib, with the name Frank Martin written on a scrap of paper and pinned to its clothes, within a few hours after he had received it. Sergt. McElwain, the matron of the hospital, were of the opinion that the child had been put under the influence of some strong narcotic, and was compelled to summon the medical attendant to save its life. When Sergt. McElwain reported these facts to Inspector Dilks, it was found that there was no proof of any offense having been committed, and therefore no one was arrested. The infant was delivered to its mother, and she left with it for her home in Newark, where she has a suit pending against Branagan for seduction.

Probable Murder Last Night.

Gotlieb Kaufman, a German, living at No. 341 First-avenue, became engaged last night, at his residence, in an altercation with his wife, Catharine Kaufman, also a German, and who is thirty-eight years of age. The affair proceeding to blows, she finally struck him several times on the head with a pitcher, fracturing his skull in two places. The Police arriving at this juncture, the woman was arrested and taken to the Seventeenth Precinct Station-house, where she was locked up. The wounded man was taken to Bellevue Hospital, and is in a critical condition.

KNOX proposes to signalize the season with a style of hats which will serve as a model for all future autumns, and sometimes for rival hatters to look at and wonder. They cannot imitate it, for it is inimitable. It is the product of an artist, and has the contour and the grace and finish which can be imparted by none but an artist. There is something about it which is indescribable, but which distinguishes it from all other hats. It is recognized at a glance, and instantly pronounced a KNOX. We cannot explain what it is, but there is not the least difficulty in making it out among ten thousand hats which are daily turned out regardless of taste by those who make hats as if they were intended for automata and not for men. A walk in Broadway will astonish one meaning, for there the new Fall Knox is in full feather.
